WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC 2, 186

The News

We have this morning a short despatch from Salem detailing the brilliant victory which has crowned the efforts of our brave troops to get possession of Lookout Mountain, near Chattanooga The tidings will be received with gladness by our readers, who will readily understand the immense consequence to both armies of every advantage gained in that section of the field of conflict The rebels acknowledge the vital necessity that drives them to strain every nerve and sinew for the recapture of East Tennessee, while on our side, it is equally important that the positions gained should be retained against all possible force of the enemy The success announced this morning will probably decide this question Such a loss on the part of the rebels cannot be made up, at least, for many months, or probably until General Grant has had full opportunity to secure such strongholds in Georgia and Alabama, as shall be impregnable When that is accomplished, the power of the rebellion will be so reduced and its sources of supplies so utterly cut off, that the last hopes of its friends must be swallowed up in despair

We expected to have news two days later by the steamer, but as the Oregon has taken the place of the Sierra Nevada, we must be content to wait, perhaps a week longer, till the slow and steady old craft drifts up in this direction

Presidential Candidates

A New York correspondent of the Marysville Appeal, gives the following statements and speculations in regard to the great civil contest of 1864—an election, in many respects, more vitally important than any in which the people of the United States have ever been concerned, for upon its results depend not mere questions of policy, but the very existence of the government

The schemers are working energetically to gain sentiment for the different men who are on the list as "candidates for the Presidency Notwithstanding the statement of several that he will retire from public life when his present term as Secretary of State expires, Weed and the Seward ites are making mighty exertions to secure his nomination They will probably secure the vote of this State in the Convention, but I do not think they can succeed in nominating Mr Seward Next to Seward, Mr Lincoln is the choice of Weed, and if a mass convention were to convene to morrow to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, Mr Lincoln would stand a better chance than almost any other man

Gen Banks is the favorite of New England, and unless public opinion should be materially altered before the nominations are made, will receive the vote of all the New England States I heard a distinguished member of the National Central Committee of the Republican party say, a few days since, that he considered the nominating vote of California a sure thing for Gen Banks

Unless the "Blair family' accomplish much more than is expected in their crusade, Secretary Chase will receive a strong support from the West. Ohio is considered certain to cast her potent voice for him, and his system of currency and banking has made him very popular all over the West. The mercantile community of the Mississippi Valley have long felt the need of a "uniform currency,' to relieve them from the expenses of Eastern exchange, and they feel that Mr Chase has invented the right system Mr Chase is probably the greatest statesman in Mr Lincoln's Cabinet, but it is an old precedent that Cabinet Ministers cannot be elected to the Presidency, and the Secretary of the Treasury is probably not an exception

These, at present, are the names most prominent before the country for the Union nomination for the Presidency There are others who are mentioned for the position, among whom are General Grant, John Sherman, of Ohio, and Edward Everett, but unless more endeavors are made by their friends than are now apparent, they will not receive the nomination If the elections this Fall had resulted in Democratic successes, it is very probable that General Grant would be nominated but it is not thought he will be urged before the next Convention

For Vice President, glorious Andy Johnson of Tennessee is most prominent. Others are talked of among whom are Mr Everett, Mr Fessenden, and Senator Morgan of this State, but the nomination for Vice President will depend very much upon who is the candidate for President. The time for nominating is yet so remote that all speculations as to who will be the candidates are not of much account and I have given them in this letter only as so much gossip, to let you know what people think at present We are of a very changeable disposition, and one month may considerably alter the whole complexion of affairs.

On the Democratic side General McClellan is—without doubt—the most popular man The New York mob cheered him, all Peace Conventions display his name in prominent letters on their banners, and I have noticed a score of grog shops over which, on "good Democratic bunting," floats the name of "George B McClellan, for President ' I say not this in derision but as matter of fact Next to Gen McClellan Horatio Seymour is most prominent as the Democratic candidate and some are crazy enough to put forth Vallandigham ' Oh, that they might succeed!

The Union party could nominate Millard Fillmore with consistency and that gentleman would run far better than some whose names are oftener mentioned in connection with the nomination If the sham Democracy should succeed in making Horatio Seymour their candidate for President they would only need to nominate Judge McCunn for Vice President [he already has the vice], and the once glorious, now degenerated, Democratic party, would sink so deep in crime and degradation that the plummet might be thrown for a century without going deep enough to find the old concern

The game the Democrats are now playing is to profess loyalty enough to secure what northern support they can while toadying, in order to retain the "unanimous' South It is likely they will not find the South so united as it formerly was In that portion of the rebellious States which has come within our lines the gap between secessionists and Union men is much wider than in the North Certain it is, that the earnest, thorough unequivocal Union men of the South spit upon the fawning creatures of the "Democracy of the North '

THE MURDERER OF JOSEPH C DEADY CONVICTED — We learn from the Sacramento Union of Nov 24th, that F C Caufman, charged with the murder of Joseph C Deady, by shooting, at a hotel at Diamond Springs, on the first of March last, was tried recently at Placerville, and found guilty of murder in the first degree The murdered man was a brother of the Hon M P Deady, of this city

Eastern News

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 23—The following is from a letter dated Port Hudson November [illegible] written by a member of the Seventh Regiment We have just received positive information that First Lieutenant Colonel [illegible] New York who was captured two months ago while out on a raid [illegible] within twenty four hours afterward [illegible] with some twenty five privates (colored), who were captured with him

BALTIMORE, Nov 23—The transport D'Lana from Port Royal (S C) November 20th, reports the capture of the rebel steamer Ba[illegible], from Nassau with a cargo of great value

WASHINGTON Nov 22—Printing of the National Bank notes commenced on Monday in New York

The temporary loans having greatly decreased Secretary Chase has been enabled to draw on the fifty millions obliged to be held in reserve to redeem the issues but, with extreme caution he has issued about four millions and has some ten or fifteen millions in the vaults Thereafter no more legal tenders will be asked for as the National Bank notes will supply the want Three years six per cent interest bearing notes are nearly ready

The Intelligencer of Saturday is out denouncing the election in Delaware as a farce, saying there was practically no election

Incomes accruing from professional and other sources than fixed investments are decided to be taxable

The Navy Department has advices from the [illegible] Showers at the Mountains [illegible] The Alabama was reported in the Bay of Bengal

The reports of Judge Edwards Commissioner of the General Land Office, will show the following Territories to be rich in gold and silver Idaho, Nevada Washington Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico Idaho is especially rich in gold and it is now being dug out with the rudest implements in astonishing quantities There are also gold deposits in Utah The richest mines yet found in Arizona are on branches of the river Colorado which runs into the Gulf of California The Territories of Idaho, Colorado and Arizona have large beds of coal

Reports from General Clark, of Mexico fully establish the truth of the reports of rich deposits of gold in Arizona

WASHINGTON Nov 23—The Republican Extra says This morning at early dawn the Army of the Potomac broke camp near the north bank of the Rapidan, with ten days cooked rations in wagons and commenced an advance movement against the enemy upon the order of General Meade It is supposed that by noon to day the whole of our army was beyond the crossing of the Rapidan Lee must fight or run If he resisted the crossing of the Rapidan there has been a battle before this If our crossing was not resisted, that is good evidence Lee is not strong enough to fight outside of the fortifications In the latter event Lee will fall back on Gordonsville or Richmond Reports of Lee's army being at Hanover Junction are mere speculations

NEW YORK, Nov 2 —A special dispatch to the World, dated Washington, November 22 says Advices from the front to night, from one of our special correspondents, say the weather has cleared up The roads were not much damaged by the late rains In view of this, important results are now daily anticipated The enemy is certainly in force on the south bend of the Rapidan

A Morris Island letter, dated Nov 19th, says — Nineteen shells were fired into Charleston on Nov 17th, falling into the most populous portion of the city On Sunday night (15th) a very heavy rebel fire was continuously poured into our batteries from the rebel works There is nothing new from the fleet

The Chattanooga correspondent of the World, dated November 15th, says Will Bragg move upon Burnside with a portion of his force, leaving the remainder to resist an advance on the part of the Federals? Has he sufficiently fortified his position in front of Chattanooga to allow him to do this? That Bragg might have done this, had not the situation changed within the last twenty four hours is possible, but as the Federal advance from Bridgeport, Alabama, has settled the supply question so another movement has settled the impossibility of a flank movement on East Tennessee What it is I am not at liberty to say, but it will not be shrouded in mystery long If, as is alleged by some refugees and deserters a portion of Bragg's forces have already started on their mission against Burnside they must be immediately recalled, or the rebel communication will be severed and the whole army threatened from the rear Whatever movements may occur to compel Bragg to change his base, no general advance will take place till Chattanooga can be made a base for supplies To advance even with the certainty of driving Bragg to Atlanta, before that time will be a mistake. That place can only be converted into such a base after the railroad is completed between Bridgeport and Chattanooga Events and manoeuvering may bring on a battle, but I doubt it, unless the rebels concentrate all their armies and make a desperate effort to regain East Tennessee But certain it is that they cannot take the offensive now "

The Times special dispatch says An officer of General Banks staff, writing to a friend, says a large quantity of cotton was captured near Brownsville, and an expedition had been sent up the river to get all they could find The Union men at Brownsville who hailed with delight the capture of that place by our forces, were forming themselves into defensive organizations, and rendering valuable assistance as scouts The cotton which will be thrown into the market by our occupation of Texas, will reach 250 000 bales The amount stored on the Rio Grande line is immense

Gen Schofield's hesitation to issue his order to recruit from slaves, just the same as white men, is over

CINCINNATI, Nov 23d —Major General Foster has arrived here and will leave for Knoxville to day

Official advices from East Tennessee to 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Nov 22d, are encouraging Up to that time the firing at Knoxville had been heard by our extreme outposts at Cumberland Gap Adjutant Stanly of the Twelfth Kentucky cavalry who arrived at Cumberland Gap yesterday, brings hopeful news of the situation Burnside was still holding out, and declared that he would certainly hold Knoxville The rebel force opposing him was estimated at 30,000 Knoxville was not closely invested The enemy have withdrawn from the south side of the river and we forage there The artillery firing on the 19th and 20th was very severe, and the enemy sustained a heavy loss Brig Gen Sanders, who was wounded at Campbell s Station a few days ago, has since died Colonel Wolford is slightly wounded

The Commercial says the withdrawal of the enemy from the south side of Knoxville is significant of a decisive repulse Burnside is holding Knoxville, under instructions from Grant It is not to be supposed, therefore, that the forces under Hooker Sherman and Thomas are wasting their time during these momentous days, and we are hourly in expectation of receiving intelligence of a most important character

RUSSIAN CIVILITIES —The courtesies extended to Americans by Russians are not confined to the country west of the Ural chain of mountains but are universal throughout the extensive dominions of the Czar For example, Captain Redfield of the brig S mu Abigail, now here, put into a Russian port on the northwest coast His vessel had suffered considerably and needed repairs Before he could secure the necessary workmen or even make his wants known the generous hearted [illegible] sent aboard a carpenter and a blacksmith who went to work with a will, and finished their work in short order And what is more not one single dollar would they receive in compensation for their labor Every day during the vessel s stay the inhabitants sent aboard fresh milk and provisions and although beef was scarce, presented the Captain with a bullock Money was declined for all and every article furnished the vessel during her visit to that harbor That s more than can be said of many of our country ports —Alta

SENSIBLE PLAN —We observe with pleasure that arrangements have been made at the Dalles, for a course of lectures for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School Library The idea is excellent not less because a good purpose is thus accomplished than for the reason that thus the time of young men and others, whose leisure hangs heavily on their hands, during these long winter evenings is at least much more innocently employed than in yielding to the temptations which beset them so easily and so powerfully Cannot some one in Portland do a worthy work by providing a similar series?

SALEM December 1st—[illegible]

WASHINGTON Nov [illegible]th—Official dispatches from Grant and Thomas dated Chattanooga Nov [illegible] state that on yesterday Palmer Granger and [illegible] corps charged on the first line of rifle pits between Chattanooga and the creek and captured them [illegible] [illegible] 10 men Our loss was 110

To day Hooker with Granger's [illegible] divisions and two brigades of the 11th corps carried the north slope of Lookout Mountain The enemy's loss about 600 Our loss small

There has been continuous fighting from 12 o clock till after 8 o clock We repulsed the enemy's attempts to retake the position

Sherman s corps, stationed at the mouth of Chickamauga with three divisions of 15 000 and one division of the 11th corps carried the northern extremity of Missionary Ridge

Our success so far is complete The troops from Lookout Valley carried all from the [illegible] top of the Mountain and point higher up

We have the following from Chattanooga dated November 25th Gen Bragg evacuated the summit of Lookout Mountain last night Our troops now occupy that position Bragg still holds the rifle pits on the base of Missionary ridge

Hooker reports 2 000 prisoners taken in one assault on Lookout Mountain

Gen Sherman attacked the enemy in Missionary ridge this morning and gained at that portion of the line a complete victory Gen Corse led the rebel assault and was repulsed with heavy loss Gen Corse being wounded the second assault was made with Col Loomis' brigade They had nearly reached the summit of the hill, and enemy's works when they were flanked, and an hour s fighting ensued, the enemy being compelled to protect their right

General Grant attacked their weakened center and after an hour's hard fighting broke it, and we gained possession of the Ridge Our killed and wounded is unknown, as the killed were on the ground in possession of the enemy at dark

Prisoners say that Bragg was on the Ridge just before it was taken The main force of the enemy was driven north toward Sherman who caused them to break up and flee across the Chickamauga

We have taken not less than 5 000 prisoners, and perhaps 8,000

Hooker will probably intercept the flying enemy in the vicinity of Rossville

It is reported that we have taken a whole corps We have taken forty pieces of artillery Hooker captured five boxes of new muskets on Lookout Mountain Our forces have entire possession of the field and full control of the Railroad, and the river to Bridgeport

Our loss will not amount to over 300 killed and 2 500 wounded in three day s operations Our success has been brilliant

The enemy is reported about two miles beyond and south of Missionary Ridge Col Phelps of the 38th Ohio, and Major Riley, of the 32d Indiana were killed

WASHINGTON, Nov 26 —The Star says we have positive and reliable intelligence from Burnside at Knoxville up to noon of the 20th—21 hours later than previously received Burnside still holds his position without loss, and also kept intact his line of communication Everything looks favorable

NEW YORK, Nov 24 —The President yesterday in the course of a conversation, remarked that the next two weeks would be the momentous period of the rebellion

NEW YORK Nov 25th —Gold irregular and unsettled, opening at 53⅞ and closed at 52⅞ Stocks dull and lower Government stocks unchanged

AN ARMY OF VETERAN VICTORS —A correspondent of the St Louis Republican, who witnessed a recent review of the 13th Army Corps at Carrolton (La), by General Banks, gives the following graphic description of the scene

Moving along with that easy, careless, accurate swing which bespeaks the old campaigner. And the flags they carried ! Terrible is an army with banners—if those banners are torn by the shot and shell of a score of battles Belmont, Donelson, Shiloh, Arkansas Post, Port Gibson, Raymond, Jackson, Champion Hill, Big Black, Vicksburg, these names were written in bullet holes on these dear seedy old rags No bunting gay with new beauty could be so gorgeous as these to the thoughtful eye It is not surprising that General Banks lifted his hat with real reverence when these historic colors were dipped to him as they passed A brave man himself he knows the honor which is due to the emblems of courage

General Banks, by the way, is a real soldier in appearance, with his iron gray hair, his unquailing eye, his well knit frame, his bronzed cheek As he galloped past on his beautiful horse, riding with more grace and skill than most of our Major Generals are in the habit of displaying, he created a real impression He is Miles Standish, with a slightly "gallus" air, Puritan by birth, but Cosmopolitan through culture

THE MOTIVE OF LEE'S PENNSYLVANIA RAID — The Richmond Examiner, commenting on the rebel General Lee s official report of his Pennsylvania campaign and the battle of Gettysburg, says

The two questions which generally occur to the observers of these events are First, why Gen Lee risked a battle at Gettysburg? and second why he did not press his advantages on the first and second days? The answers are rather hinted than [illegible] plenary expressed in the report It appears that the battle was delivered because the position assumed by Meade menaced the Confederate communication with the Potomac The reason why the work was not finished and the victory completed on the first and second days, when it might have been done was the fact that the army was not concentrated at Gettysburg with the speed which would have been used had Gen Lee been better informed of the position and force of the enemy Why was he not informed? The answer which may be drawn from this report is that Gen Lee had not given the cavalry under his hand to reconnoitre and bring information He says that he left Stuart in the valley to guard the passes of the mountains for some time after the entrance in Pennsylvania and he does not appear to have had the use of the mounted force until the battle was joined at Gettysburg The fact that the cavalry of the Confederate army was insufficient is the most probable reason of the failure in Pennsylvania and perhaps, the key to all the mystery of Gettysburg

One deduction to be drawn from the general tenor of this despatch is consoling Gen Lee is evidently not one of those who regard the invasion of Pennsylvania to have been a radical error or that its partial failure is a sound reason why no further offensive operation against the enemy should be attempted The writer of this report is evidently a man who would neither be lured by success or emasculated by defeat We have room to hope that he does not renew the great design imperfectly shadowed in the report he will replace it in the future by some other essentially the same and that he recognizes the truth of Napoleon best maxim that the most magnificent achievements in war as in other things are generally accomplished after one or more partial or complete disappointments

GRAND NATIONAL SPECTACLE OF THE UNITED STATES PUTTING DOWN THE REBELLION —Fraser's Magazine (a high Tory organ in London) for October, says

If it is true that the North have had in arms some 800 000 men and that which is not absurd we allow 300 000 of them to have been in reserve it would still be true that a population not exceeding Great Britain sent 500 000 into the field This would be at the very least one eighth of the grown up men of the country When we consider that this effort was made not against an invader nor under the pressure of want, but in the midst of unbounded prosperity and in order to support the glory and credit of the nation, it is bare justice to say that the history of mankind can furnish no other example of such an effort The Dutch fought the Spaniard for their hearths homes and churches the French fought all Europe with famine and the guillotine behind them and empire in front. The English in India had the pride of a superior race and the memories of unexpiated injuries to urge them against the Sepoys But if ever a nation sacrificed itself deliberately and manfully to an idea this has been the case with the Americans Admit for the sake of argument that they are altogether wrong still their intense and earnest sincerity and their single mindedness of devotion are magnificent and ought to have excited the admiration instead of the sneer of their kindred

INTERVENTION —Every few weeks, when the conviction that foreign intervention is impossible, a hue and cry is raised that England or France has resolved to intervene, and somehow wait you, will you bring our national struggle to a close Notwithstanding these rumors the finest Clothing is still supplied by the celebrated Clothiers Heuston Hastings & Co of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter San Francisco Their goods are fashionable and durable and consequently their regular customers are continually increasing

Report of an Eye Witness.—Capt Geer, of the Army, who was captured by the rebels, has recently published an account of what he saw and heard during his imprisonment Before entering the Union army, he served for ten years as a minister of the Methodist church, and his high character is vouched for by a number of the most eminent ministers of that denomination. While a prisoner at Columbus (Miss), Capt Geer says he was treated to this rebel expression of opinion concerning democratic institutions

I was here visited by two rebel captains belonging to Bushrod Johnston's staff, one of whom was a lawyer from Virginia, named McMoore. These men conversed freely on the times Both of them expressed themselves as decidedly in favor of an American aristocracy! They argued, with as much earnestness and ability as their vocabulary furnished words, the imbecility of Republican Government, and to prove the immutability of their opinions, cited to me the semi idiotic land degraded "clay-eaters" of the South, saying

"What do these men know of civil institutions, and what right have they to vote?"

Said I, "Gentlemen, is it possible that this is the faith of your leaders?"

They replied emphatically in the affirmative.

"Then, sirs, we of the North have not been mistaken on a subject which has been forcing itself upon us as a fact, but which we were loth to believe could harbor itself even in the basest American heart Since you are frank enough to own it, certainly the world should know it, and execrate it as it deserves"

When I became acquainted with the motives of these two representative men—how they despised their poor, ignorant soldier brethren, armed and fighting to fasten fetters on themselves and children forever I could but exclaim, "Send out thy light and thy truth, O God! into all the earth Hasten the day when ignorance and oppression shall vanish before the free gospel, and righteousness through all the land prevail."

These are the chosen allies of the so called "Democrats" of the North. Here is a sketch of an Irish Confederate

One of our chief annoyances in this prison was in the person of a diminutive, pompous and arrogant Irishman, named Mackey, who seemed to rejoice in the title of "sergeant," which he took great care to frequently ventilate in the presence of the prisoners He was an orderly of the Provost Marshal, and the fellow, clothed with a little brief authority, seemed to be impressed with the sole idea that tyranny was the only attribute of one so exalted. Once, when he came into my quarters, I asked him what object he could have in the rebel army, and what profit he expected to derive from the establishment of a confederacy

"Enough, be jabers," he replied "You Yankees want to free our nagers, be sure, and we're all forninst that here, and we won't submit at all, at all"

"How many negroes have you, Mackey?" I asked.

"Why, sure, and be jabers, and I have n't a nager in the world,"

"Well, sir, what interest, then, can you have in this war?"

"Och, and be sure, a poor tool of an Irish man can hardly get a wee jab of work now, and if these divels were free, we'd have to go beggin' forever"

The London Times Tells the Truth for Once.—The London Times has all along been informing the world that this war is ruining the United States, that the impoverishment is well nigh completed, and that the war must soon stop from want of the means to carry it on. It has got its eyes open of late, and for some reason has concluded to tell the truth, and makes the following remarkable admission in editorial columns:

We shall make our meaning the clearer if we explain it in connection with the problem which has more than any other in the character of the war baffled the comprehension of Europeans. This frightful desolating war does not seem to have any influence at present in destroying the prosperity of the Federal States. On the contrary, our correspondents, wherever they go, send us accounts of almost fabulous wealth and luxury. The town of Chicago, the great centre of western commerce, is being rebuilt all over. "In the country most people have profited by the war" A stimulus has been given to railways and every species of commercial enterprise The Great Western States have been more opened up; their commerce has increased, and, even taking into account the depreciation of greenbacks, the real solid wealth of the commercial classes has, in our correspondent's opinion, gained by the war. "There is no doubt," he tells us, "that by this prodigious shower of greenbacks the country has been enormously fertilized. The same rule applies to every other branch of commercial, agricultural or industrial enterprise However worthless the greenbacks may be in themselves, the lands that can be bought with them, the houses that can be built with them, are solid goods." The merchants of New York appear to be enjoying a similar run of prosperity, and there can be no doubt that the reckless way in which the war continues is due in a great measure to the fact that its effect up to the present time has been to enrich and not to impoverish the Federal States.

Would not be Suspected.—A good anecdote is told of Gen. Grant After the fall of Vicksburg and Port Hudson he was pressed by the Treasury Department to authorize some system of trade He at last conceded that a certain amount of commerce in the recaptured districts of the South would be safe, proper, and even highly useful to the Union, provided only it was conducted through honest, Union hands. He was asked to name the persons whom he would be willing to trust. His reply was "I will do no such thing, for if I did it would appear in less than a week that I was a partner of every one of the persons trading under my authority"

New Fish Story.—Somebody of an inventive turn of mind being inquired of as to the definition of "a fish story," relates the following by way of illustration: "Almost frozen and dying of hunger we saw a wounded whale struggling on the ice. We were so hungry we could hardly restrain from eating it raw but upon my suggestion we proceeded to fry the whale entire—we did so, and found its flesh as tender as salmon. How did we fry it? where did we get the frying pan? Why, I'll tell you We started a fire on the ice and let it burn till it became red hot, and then we rolled the fish on it, and in an hour it was done to a turn"

A Mulatto made his escape into our lines, and was questioned by our soldiers 1st Your master whipped you I suppose? "No, he never whipped me in all my life" 2d I suppose he nearly starved you? "No, I always had plenty to eat" 3d Clothed you miserably? "No, always well clothed" Then you are a great fool for leaving such a home. "Very well, gentlemen, my leaving has made a vacant place If any one of you chooses, he can go and fill it"

Active and Passive Verbs.—A teacher one day, endeavoring to make a pupil understand the nature and application of a passive verb, said "A passive verb is expressive of the nature of receiving an action, as Peter is beaten Now, what did Peter do?"

The boy, pausing a moment with the gravest countenance imaginable, replied "Well, I don't know, without he hollered"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
PHYSICIANS
CITIZENS

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.
J NEWTON BROWN
Philadelphia, June 23 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

Philadelphia, August 23, 1862

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.
Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone, restored to life
